

When the Mercury's at 102°

You swelter through a long, hot day—with the mercury about to blow the top off the thermometer because it can't register above 102—and you get hotter and hotter and crankier and crankier, and finally you know there is only one thing that will save you—and that's a real honest-to-goodness swim in the big outdoor plunge at the Canyon San, where the water is delightfully cool, stimulating, invigorating.

Oh, man! It's the life!

And you will be hungry when you get out—such a healthy appetite. We'll have a delicious lunch all ready for you.

Take either the yellow bus or the Ogden Canyon car. Bus leaves corner of Washington avenue and Twenty-fifth street every hour from 12 noon until 11 p. m., on week days, and from 10 a. m. until 11 p. m., on Sundays. Canyon car leaves the same corner every few minutes all day long.

Dancing - Refreshments Ogden Canyon Sanitarium

Fifteen Minutes From Town

S. P. BAND TO END CONCERTS

Musical Organization Hopes to Have Season at Park
Extended.

The Southern Pacific band, under the direction of Arthur W. Agee, will play what is scheduled to be its last concert of the summer series at Lorin Farr park today, beginning at 4:30 o'clock.

The ladies' band is to give another concert next Sunday and that was to complete the concerts for the summer.

Efforts are being made, however, to have the season extended and steps are being taken to see if the necessary funds for additional concerts can be obtained from the city.

Director Agee says the concert today should prove unusually popular. The band has released some of the more popular band numbers and expects to present them in a manner that will give great pleasure.

Star Spangled Banner.
March, Potpourri, Lullaby
Overture, Post and Prentiss, Suite
Popular, (a) Railroad Blues.

(b) When My Baby Smiles at Me.
Intermezzo, Manzano, Brooks
Valse, Pathétique, Little
Two famous marches by Sousa

(a) New York Hippodrome
(b) United States Field Artillery.
Concert Waltzes, Gold and Silver.
Lehaves

African Characteristic Dance, Little
Popular, (a) Pledge, Storet
(b) Somebody, Little
Sextette from Lucia, Donizetti
Popular Waltz Songs

(a) Miscellaneous Shore, Van Alstyne
(b) Naughtily Waltz, Levy
March of the Anzacs, Littlelow

FRANKLIN O'OLIER
VISITOR IN RENO

RENO, Nev., July 31.—Franklin O'lier, national commander of the American Legion, accompanied by his wife and secretary, A. Duret, arrived in Reno this morning to confer with local and state officers of the legion.

O'lier was entertained at luncheon here before leaving this afternoon for Carson City, where he is scheduled to deliver an address tonight at the dedication of Nevada's new building.

RENO, Nev., July 31.—The reichstag yesterday adopted the bill recently presented by the government providing for the abolition of compulsory military service. The German action is in fulfillment of one of the allied demands regarding German disarmament agreed to by Germany at the recent Spa conference.

The session of the Spa conference at which the bill was under discussion, was marked by attacks of the independent Socialists upon members of the German national party who were hostile to the measure.

Czech-Slovakia is the first country in Europe to adopt the eight-hour day by law.

George C. Tyler is sending his Chicago company to the Blackstone theatre, to the Orpheum theatre for an engagement of two performances on Sunday and Monday, August 1 and 2, in Booth Tarkington's latest comedy, "Clarence".

The comedy is the perfect organization that made for the great success of the comedy in Chicago will be seen here intact. The cast includes Gregory Kelly, Ruth Gordon, Robert Adams, Byron Beasley, Bert Murray, Grace Fickens, Clara Blandick, Joe Wallace, James T. Ford and Guy D'Emery.

"Clarence" delivers one of those merrily amusing which creates a soldier in the hero with all the early instincts of loyal unselfishness in service and other unfitness for battle-field hazards. An amiable professor of entomology, he is, in the end, a twenty million microbes and bugs to train for warfare. Placidly and humbly he goes as far as a training camp, where he wanders in front of a target and gets a load of bullets shot into his liver. They have, with the brilliant precision of rush training, put him to driving mules, but he is incapacitated even for that unattractive way to heroism, and is sent home invalided. His place as consulting entomologist for a dignified college has been assumed by one of his assistants and pupils, so he drifts about trying to find employment, and runs into a rich man's family, which is one of those three horned nests where everybody tries to be boss and nobody is happy. The professor is meek and toady and astounded, but of such optimistic efficiency that he can do anything from tinning the piano with motor tools, mending the plumbing and "singing a little wild-cat of a daughter who wants to vamp a grass-widower. With this attractive material, Mr. Tarkington lets his wit and humor, his satire and his philosophy race about pleasantly and normally, and the amusement is complete.

Robert Adams, a very clever actor, who had his primary studies schooling in lesser parts in New York theatre productions, and afterwards in prominent parts in important theatrical attractions, is given the part of the hero in "Clarence". He is a mule-driver's hunk. There is much subtle play in the returned soldier's insinuating hints as to his nativity and social standing. But Clarence never seems to be studying his questioners, or telling anything misleading. He is, nevertheless, capital, giving the man of letters the different note of femininity, which sits amusingly on the best shoulders of the dough-boy muleteer.

TAX OF SUGAR FIRMS REDUCED

State Board Shows Amount of Reduction Throughout the State.

Amount of the reduction made in taxes paid by sugar companies as a result of action of the state board of equalization last year is shown in a report made by T. J. Midgley, who becomes chief deputy state auditor Monday, and who has been traveling deputy in the office of Joseph Ririe, state auditor.

The total in two counties alone—Cache and Boxelder amounted to a reduction of $972,275 in taxes paid by the sugar companies, or a reduction in the assessed valuation of around $600,000 in these counties.

Similar conditions also existed in Utah county, but the amount in that case has not as yet been ascertained.

Sugar in the hands of the manufacturers was assessed by suggestion of the state board as of January 1, 1919, at $7 a hundred pounds. In the hands of the retail merchants the same year it was assessed at $10 a hundred pounds. Subsequently finding that merchandise in the three counties had been assessed too low, the state board ordered an increase in each case. In Boxelder the increase ordered was 25 per cent.

Representation was made to the board of equalization, state and county, that the $7 price that year was the actual cash value of the sugar, and that therefore on this commodity the 25 per cent increase should not be allowed. The county boards were reconvened the sugar company officials made their plea and the assessed valuation of the sugar at the factories was set back to the $7 a hundred mark which was the figure at which it was assessed in other counties in the state.

However, the sugar in the hands of the merchants who did not appear before the county boards of equalization, continued to take the 25 per cent advance and was therefore assessed at $12.50 a sack as of January 1, 1919.

In Boxelder the reduction in taxes of the Amalgamated Sugar company was $1701 that year as a result of the reconvening of the county board, and of the Utah-Idaho Sugar company $2,085.75. In Cache county, by similar action, the Amalgamated Sugar saved $2669 in taxes, the Lewiston Sugar company $2518.40 and the West Cache $957.60.

For 1920, as of January 1, sugar at the factory has been assessed at $10 a sack, and at $13.50 sack in the hands of the retail merchants. Those were about the prices actually prevailing at that time though some months subsequently the factories raised their prices to $13, seaboard base, and still later one of the companies raised to $23.75 seaboard base.

Sullivan to Preside
At Scardino Hearing

Acting as judge pro tem, Dan Sullivan, judge of the juvenile court, will sit on the bench in place of City Judge D. R. Roberts in the preliminary hearing of the case of the state against Jennie Scardino. The hearing has been set for August 4. Miss Scardino is charged with the murder of her cousin Mike Termain, whom she alleged she shot in self defense.

Judge Roberts disqualified himself for reason of his having presided as coroner at the inquest, and having become acquainted with the facts, was prejudiced against the defendant.

"CLARENCE" OPENS
ORPHEUM TONIGHT

George C. Tyler is sending his Chicago company to the Blackstone theatre, to the Orpheum theatre for an engagement of two performances on Sunday and Monday, August 1 and 2, in Booth Tarkington's latest comedy, "Clarence".

The comedy is the perfect organization that made for the great success of the comedy in Chicago will be seen here intact. The cast includes Gregory Kelly, Ruth Gordon, Robert Adams, Byron Beasley, Bert Murray, Grace Fickens, Clara Blandick, Joe Wallace, James T. Ford and Guy D'Emery.

"Clarence" delivers one of those merrily amusing which creates a soldier in the hero with all the early instincts of loyal unselfishness in service and other unfitness for battle-field hazards. An amiable professor of entomology, he is, in the end, a twenty million microbes and bugs to train for warfare. Placidly and humbly he goes as far as a training camp, where he wanders in front of a target and gets a load of bullets shot into his liver. They have, with the brilliant precision of rush training, put him to driving mules, but he is incapacitated even for that unattractive way to heroism, and is sent home invalided. His place as consulting entomologist for a dignified college has been assumed by one of his assistants and pupils, so he drifts about trying to find employment, and runs into a rich man's family, which is one of those three horned nests where everybody tries to be boss and nobody is happy. The professor is meek and toady and astounded, but of such optimistic efficiency that he can do anything from tinning the piano with motor tools, mending the plumbing and "singing a little wild-cat of a daughter who wants to vamp a grass-widower. With this attractive material, Mr. Tarkington lets his wit and humor, his satire and his philosophy race about pleasantly and normally, and the amusement is complete.

Robert Adams, a very clever actor, who had his primary studies schooling in lesser parts in New York theatre productions, and afterwards in prominent parts in important theatrical attractions, is given the part of the hero in "Clarence". He is a mule-driver's hunk. There is much subtle play in the returned soldier's insinuating hints as to his nativity and social standing. But Clarence never seems to be studying his questioners, or telling anything misleading. He is, nevertheless, capital, giving the man of letters the different note of femininity, which sits amusingly on the best shoulders of the dough-boy muleteer.

RENO, Nev., July 31.—The reichstag yesterday adopted the bill recently presented by the government providing for the abolition of compulsory military service. The German action is in fulfillment of one of the allied demands regarding German disarmament agreed to by Germany at the recent Spa conference.

The session of the Spa conference at which the bill was under discussion, was marked by attacks of the independent Socialists upon members of the German national party who were hostile to the measure.

Czech-Slovakia is the first country in Europe to adopt the eight-hour day by law.

George C. Tyler is sending his Chicago company to the Blackstone theatre, to the Orpheum theatre for an engagement of two performances on Sunday and Monday, August 1 and 2, in Booth Tarkington's latest comedy, "Clarence".

The comedy is the perfect organization that made for the great success of the comedy in Chicago will be seen here intact. The cast includes Gregory Kelly, Ruth Gordon, Robert Adams, Byron Beasley, Bert Murray, Grace Fickens, Clara Blandick, Joe Wallace, James T. Ford and Guy D'Emery.

"Clarence" delivers one of those merrily amusing which creates a soldier in the hero with all the early instincts of loyal unselfishness in service and other unfitness for battle-field hazards. An amiable professor of entomology, he is, in the end, a twenty million microbes and bugs to train for warfare. Placidly and humbly he goes as far as a training camp, where he wanders in front of a target and gets a load of bullets shot into his liver. They have, with the brilliant precision of rush training, put him to driving mules, but he is incapacitated even for that unattractive way to heroism, and is sent home invalided. His place as consulting entomologist for a dignified college has been assumed by one of his assistants and pupils, so he drifts about trying to find employment, and runs into a rich man's family, which is one of those three horned nests where everybody tries to be boss and nobody is happy. The professor is meek and toady and astounded, but of such optimistic efficiency that he can do anything from tinning the piano with motor tools, mending the plumbing and "singing a little wild-cat of a daughter who wants to vamp a grass-widower. With this attractive material, Mr. Tarkington lets his wit and humor, his satire and his philosophy race about pleasantly and normally, and the amusement is complete.

Robert Adams, a very clever actor, who had his primary studies schooling in lesser parts in New York theatre productions, and afterwards in prominent parts in important theatrical attractions, is given the part of the hero in "Clarence". He is a mule-driver's hunk. There is much subtle play in the returned soldier's insinuating hints as to his nativity and social standing. But Clarence never seems to be studying his questioners, or telling anything misleading. He is, nevertheless, capital, giving the man of letters the different note of femininity, which sits amusingly on the best shoulders of the dough-boy muleteer.

RENO, Nev., July 31.—The reichstag yesterday adopted the bill recently presented by the government providing for the abolition of compulsory military service. The German action is in fulfillment of one of the allied demands regarding German disarmament agreed to by Germany at the recent Spa conference.

The session of the Spa conference at which the bill was under discussion, was marked by attacks of the independent Socialists upon members of the German national party who were hostile to the measure.

Czech-Slovakia is the first country in Europe to adopt the eight-hour day by law.

Cool Off at the ALHAMBRA Water Filtered Air A DELIGHTFUL ENTERTAINMENT Jesse L. Lasky Presents ETHEL CLAYTON

in
"A LADY
IN LOVE"
A Paramount Aircraft Picture

Alhambra
Today

SPECIAL COMEDY
ADDED
SPECIAL MUSIC

Doors open 5:45
Curtain 5 till 11

Russian Sunflower Valued as Fodder

Russian sunflower is rapidly gaining recognition in Weber county as a cattle food, and will probably offset to some extent, feeds that at present are very expensive, according to W. P. Thomas, county agricultural agent. Several acres of this plant are being cultivated at Huntsville it is reported, and from experiments made last season, it is evident that a quantity of valuable feed will be secured this season.

Mr. Thomas stated that the sunflower had been found to be adapted to use in high valleys and the average yield per acre is from 20 to 35 tons. The sunflower is valuable for feed only as ensilage, it has been found, but cattle relish the food in this form and thrive upon it.

The head of the sunflower, which contains a quantity of feed, carries the oil and fat which makes it valuable as a food. The stalk and leaves, while they carry some nourishing properties, are mainly valuable as roughage.

Because of the heavy yield per acre, the sunflower forms an economic feed. The cost of installing a silo is not exorbitant, it is stated and is soon paid for by the feeding of the sunflower ensilage in place of more expensive fodder.

OLD TEMPLES OF TAHITI
WILL BE UNCOVERED

PAPEETE, Tahiti, July 31.—The ancient lore of Tahiti is to be resurrected and the ruins of the temples of the South Pacific Islanders, ordered destroyed a century ago by Christian missionaries, are to be uncovered by excavation. Efforts to gather the relics of a forgotten worship are being vigorously prosecuted here.

Interest centers upon the great central temple of Marae at Aikekuru, on Tahiti island, where human sacrifices were offered to the bloodthirsty god of war, "Oro." So completely were the wishes of the missionaries carried out that nothing remains save traces of the foundations of this extensive temple. Excavations are expected to bring to light some interesting objects, which, it is hoped, will reveal the purposes and uses of this ancient structure.

Marae, while being the chief temple of Tahiti, was not the oldest or the most important in the islands. The temple at Opou, traces of which still remain on the island of Raiatea, was the sacred center of religion in the eastern Pacific and not until a stone from this has been incorporated in the structure did the Marae temple on Tahiti become consecrated.

It was at Marae that Captain Cook witnessed the ceremonies of human sacrifices chronicled in his "Voyage".

14th Ward Mutuals Announce Program

An exceptionally attractive program for Sunday evening is announced by the Mutuals of the Fourteenth ward. Walter N. Farr, Weber county clerk, will deliver an address dealing with the succession in the church presidency.

The musical portion of the program will consist of selections by the John Haynes Glee club. A reading, "The Seven Presidents," will be given by Master Wallace Stevens.

The service commences at 7:30 o'clock and the public is invited to attend the meeting, which will be held in the coolest hall in Ogden.

CHINESE SEEKING TO RESTORE THE UNION

PEKING, July 30.—(By The Associated Press.)—Restoration of the union between northern and southern China and the establishment of an administration on democratic principles, giving public opinion the fullest consideration, were given as the objectives of General Tiao-Kun and General Wu Pei-Fu in their operations against the Anfu forces, according to a statement made to The Associated Press today by General Tiao-Kun, who is military governor of Chihli province.

In concurrence with General Chang Tiao-Lin, governor of Fen Tien and General Wu Pei-Fu, General Tiao-Kun said he favored summoning a new parliament as soon as possible after reunion of the nation. He reiterated that the Chihliists regarded the frontier defense force a national menace.

It was officially reported today that 15,000 Anfu troops of General Huai-Shu-Ohng have disbanded.

Passenger service on the Tien Tsin railway has been resumed.

Italian glassware has increased in price 25 per cent since the war.

The natives, while professing Christianity, and manifesting it by most active church attendance, have a deep fear of these places. Under no circumstances will they approach these temples at night, nor venture near them by day without great trepidation, believing that should they in any way offend the sleeping gods, vengeance will come.

Fast Day Services to Be Held Today

Fast day services will be held in all the wards of the Latter Day Saints this afternoon when all members of the respective wards are requested to be present.

In the evening programs will be rendered under the auspices of the ward Mutuals.

ITALY FOOD QUESTION
ALARMS STATESMEN

ROME, Italy, July 30.—Grave statements concerning Italy's food position were made in the chamber today by Signor Soleri, the food commissioner. The harvest was disappointing he reported, and despite requisitioning there would be only twelve instead of the 40,000,000 quintals of wheat it had been hoped to obtain.

To meet the needs of the population, the commissioner explained, Italy would be required to purchase abroad thirty quintals. He added that as Argentina and India had placed embargoes on wheat exports, it was very doubtful whether Italy could obtain her requirements.

Signor Soleri announced that Italy already had proposed and Mr. Lloyd George consented to call a conference to discuss the problem with a view to assuring Europe's bread supply.

A FAKE ADVERTISEMENT?
PEORIA, Ill.—Alleging Walter Wilson, prominent business man, refused to marry her as agreed, Mrs. Lena L. Steve filed a breach of promise suit asking $10,000 damages. She charged Wilson with advertising for a wife and she answered. Their acquaintance ripened into love and, she alleges, Wilson proposed marriage on June 1 last. When the date arrived he declined to wed.

PRESTON FLOUR
PROOF IN EVERY SACK

A Different Kind of Milk

From healthy cows, selected for their rich milk producing qualities. We are delivering to our customers pure milk — milk that is identically the same in body and flavor as when it left the cow.

KLEENMILK DAIRY
Smith Brothers, Proprietors
633 31st St. Phone 1236